

To Chris,

Sorry I wasn't able to return your call today (July 15th), my campaign has incredible energy as my phone is ringing non-stop. I'm answering calls from the working people and business owners of our community. At this moment my focus is on their issues: mental, physical and financial hardship being created from the corona virus and how the current Mayor is addressing their needs. This is time well spent. This group is the heart and soul of the Key West I've known and love for the last thirty-eight years; so at this moment, I must focus on those in greatest need

Thank you,

Mark Rossi
